Field day for dogs

Sharon Collins from Buckeye 4-H was recently in San Rafael for the big Field Day at the training facility for Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. and brought back the following report: "As in other Field Days, an obstacle course is set up during which the puppies are scored according to behavior and reactions to various situations presented. The handler is also scored, according to his demonstration of good handling technique, appropriate corrections, praise and support — particularly if the dog is reactive to the situation. This field day is unique in that each station has judges who are the licensed trainers of the Guide Dogs staff, and their comments have a special influence on the youngsters.

The 10 stations included a vet exam, and a handler's exam, where the 4-H'er must be able to show the judge the dog's ears, eyes, teeth, open the dog's mouth as though to give a pill, be able to lift any of the dog's feet, and spray him with an aerosol can. At the Pay Attention station, the handler had to demonstrate his dog's knowledge of the commands; "Sit, down, sit-stay and come" with the tempting distractions of chickens, goats, and rabbits. The dogs also had to walk along a path with poles decorated with streamers and balloons, across a slippery surface, and up and down steps. At station six — The Phone Call — the dog must be tied to a post while the handler goes out of sight and the judge fires a 32 calibre starting pistol. Handler and puppy also walk past a small engine, and a honking horn, up to mannequins in strange dress. An umbrella is suddenly opened as they start up the steps at the Shopping Center, and a shopping cart is pushed almost straight at the team. At the last station, the team heels over grates and a teeter-board.

Tricia Collins and "Lloyd" her Golden Retriever, who was entered in the over-12 months division turned in a near perfect 199 score out of a possible 200 points. Lloyd has since been recalled to the school for his formal Guide Dog training.

Susan Lockwood, whose puppy, "Bando" had an injured leg, took "Gammon", the black Labrador Retriever being raised by Kathy Collins through the course for Kathy who was one of the delegates to the 4-H State Leadership Conference at Davis and unable to attend the Field Day. The arrangement worked out well for everyone concerned, and Susan brought home a blue ribbon for herself and a blue ribbon for Gammon.

Bill Brandt with "Adolf", the German Shepherd that he is raising, also received two blues.

Between the morning and afternoon classes, Guide Dogs for the Blind provided lunches for the participants and their families.

The date for the next Guide Dog Field is Oct. 24, at the Los Banos Fairgrounds in Los Banos."

Garden Association meets

The Carmel Valley Garden Association will meet on Thursday, Oct. 14, 8 p.m. in the multipurpose room at Tularcitos School for a brief business meeting followed by a program featuring Mrs. Beatrice Howitt with colored slides of plants native to Monterey County. The well known botanist, author of the book, "The Vascular Plants of Monterey County and Others" will be of special interest to native plant lovers.

The meetings are always open without charge to the public. It is a nice way to meet new friends at the refreshment hour following the program.

Resident returns from Germany

Ty Keys, a former Via Contenta resident who swam with the Carmel Barracudas is by a strange coincidence still a "Barracuda", but with the Venice Aquatic Club in Venice Florida, and recently saw competition in Germany. The swimmers stayed in private homes with German families for two weeks. Ty returned to the states with two medals won at the meet held at Gelnhausen, Germany.

Now a handsome 13-year-old, eighth grader at Venice Junior High, Ty is a member of the Cival Air Patrol; has set his goal to become a marine biologist; and has a paper route which helped finance his trip to Europe.

Ty is the son of Betty and Rob Keys and the grandson of Mrs. Ethel Crooks of Lupin Lane in Carmel Valley.

MONTEREY PENINSULA VOLUNTEER SERVICES members are shown with some of the many items that will be offered at their Fall Sale, scheduled for Oct. 23 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Exhibition Hall of the Monterey Fair Grounds. Mrs. Dan Tibbets (from right) who represents the Family Service Agency which is the recipient of the proceeds from the sale, looks over some of the sale items with Mrs. Eugenia Dujmovich, Mrs. William Godwin and general chairman of the sale, Mrs. Thomas Hardy.

Hidden Valley friends formed

A "Friends of Hidden Valley" has been organized to raise funds for, and support the work of, Hidden Valley Music Seminars, an institute of the arts in Carmel Valley. The group will meet Oct. 20 at noon in the Hidden Valley theatre to install officers, according to Edith Alt, chairperson.

Mrs. Alt said that anyone interested in joining the Friends may make reserventions and attend the luncheon meeting. Membership fee is $10 per year.

At a recent organizational meeting, Friends heard Peter T. Mekel, executive dean of Hidden Valley, say that the institute is now "a big little business" with a $300,000 budget for the current season.

During the meeting, Mrs. Alt announced a membership goal of 1,000 for the Friends and said that FOHV will begin its first year by aiding in Hidden Valley's initial season ticket sale. She said Friends aim at selling 1,250 season tickets, at $24 each, for four performances — La Boheme, Transformations, The Turn of the Screw, and Magic Flute. The season begins Jan. 8.

Mrs. Alt said seating capacity in the Hidden Valley Theater is 250, and all operas are in English.

MPVS fall sale set Oct 23

Autumn colors will be the theme of the Fall Sale in preparation by the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, and color in abundance will greet those attending the one-day event at the Exhibition Hall of the Monterey Fair Grounds on Saturday, Oct. 23, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Decorations appropriate to the approaching holidays, will be carried out in the various booths offering handwork done by MPVS members, gourmet assortments, clothing, jewelry, plants, antiques and what-nots.

General chairmen for the sale are: Mrs. Thomas Hardy, Carmel; Mrs. Edward Ellies, Pebble Beach; and Mrs. Howard Evans, Pacific Grove. The net proceeds of the fair will be donated to the Family Service Agency.

The various booths will be attended by members of MPVS. The Snack Bar, decorated with yellow pumpkins for the occasion, will be handled by Mrs. Franklin Johnston of Carmel, and Mrs. C.G. Aker of Carmel. The neighboring Gourmet Booth, stocked with homemade baked goods, jams, jellies, pickles and preserves, is under the direction of Mrs. O.C. Peters, winner of many prizes at the recent Country

Fair. Jewelry will be displayed by Mrs. Harry Lancaster of Carmel, and Mrs. Richard Townley of Pebble Beach. "What-Nots" will be coordinated by Mrs. William Godwin of Pebble Beach and Mrs. Leroy W. Altz of Carmel. Plants will be available and are under the care of Mrs. Clare Appleby and Mrs. W.M. Wheeler of Carmel. The clothing section, displaying a variety of dresses, suits and coats, is under the direction of Mrs. R.S. Lanz and Mrs. Robert Henny of Carmel.

Cochairmen for the booth featuring handmade articles and an assortment of gift items are Mrs. John S. Power of Carmel Valley, and Mrs. A.F. Anderson of Pebble Beach.

There will be door prizes that will be drawn during the afternoon of the sale and a painting by a popular Carmel artist will be awarded to the holder of the winning ticket. Admission tickets (donation, $1) may be obtained in advance from the members of MPVS or at the door on the day of the sale.

Entertainment

Joe Regelski

A few weeks past we had the exclusive that pianist-composer Bob Dorough would be in the area soon and this is the week. Bob was scheduled to play at a benefit for Congressional candidate Leon Panetta this Wednesday at the Hidden Valley Music Seminar and tonight (Thursday) he'll be at the New Riverside in Santa Cruz. And then it's back to the Peninsula for a three day engagement at the Buckeye in Carmel Valley Friday through Sunday.

Dorough is a musician's musician who has played with many of the greats in the music world via an East Coast-oriented schedule. He'll be off to the El Matador in San Francisco after the Buckeye so jazz buffs can save some gas and show local club owners that jazz can be supported in the area. Any true music lover owes themselves an evening at the Buckeye to catch this talented gentleman.

That dearth of available movies continues in the Peninsula but don't blame the local theatre owners. Take a look at the entertainment sections in the Sunday Chronicle and L.A. Times and you'll see that Hollywood is not delivering the product. "Marathon Man" as well as new entries featuring Liza Minelli and Woody Allen appear to be the only evident money makers due at box offices until Christmas time.

What's causing the drought? The TV movies are certainly hurting the industry. Many companies rather make films directly for the boob tube which guarantees them a profit and allows them to release the vehicles overseas for still more bucks. The percentages that distributors and film companies ask border on the ridiculous at times (90 per cent of the first week's gross is not an unusual rent). Also, the new TV trend of showing mini-series based on bestsellers is also hurting the theatres. Five years ago "Rich Man, Poor Man" and "Captains and Kings" would have been theatrical movies — not exclusive TV fare.

Finally, there's the inundation of the private channels available to cable subscribers. (On Monterey Peninsula we have Channel 100.) This is great for people with large families who can't afford the theatre ticket but a poor substitute for anyone who wants to take in the full-sweep of any major film. There's quite a difference between a 19 inch screen and a stereo system and large screen at a quality theatre. "2001" on a TV screen is reduced to "201" at best.

Children who live in the Jamesburg area past Tassajara have a problem. There is no schoolhouse there for them and the youngsters must take a fifteen mile, one hour bus ride to get to school in the Carmel Valley Village four days a week. (The fifth day the kids get to go to a local class.)

Last year, citizens and friends of Jamesburg staged "Oklahoma" and with the proceeds were able to buy land for a one room school house for the elementary aged children.

This year, that same group of thespians under the mentor of John and Linda Prejean will be staging "Guys and Dolls" at the Wester Dance Studio on Pilot Road in Carmel Valley Village every Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening for four weekends starting October 29th. The financial objective now is to build the school which will be a private co-op institution.

The curtain is set for 8:30 p.m. and refreshments will be served during intermission. Tickets are available at the Buckeye Restaurant, Wills Fargo, the Thunderbird, the No Name Saloon and the General Store in Carmel Valley; Montgrove and the Record Cove in Monterey; and Sade's in Carmel.

Cannery Row Dinner Theatre owner Bob Heater tells me that the current production of "A Thousand Clowns" will be the last production at the current sight atop the Steinbeck Lobster House. Heater and company will be moving to the Barnyard in Carmel Valley after the first of the year. The tentative date is sometime in February.... Band leader Jack Daugherty called in from L.A. to pass the word on that his latest album (recorded at Super Sound Studios in Monterey) will be out on the racks sometime this month. Jack, who found and produced the Carpenters and has two solo band albums to his credit, will be calling the record "Carmel By The Sea." How about that?... Folk music aficionados should plan now to attend the second annual MPC Folk Festival to be held Friday through Sunday — October 29-31. Friday eve's concert will feature top entertainment from throughout the state. Saturday's workshops will culminate in a Saturday evening get-together with Mike Seeger. Give Monterey Peninsula College a call for more information.

Slide show — 'Tops'

A slide show depicting competition, fundraisers, entertainment, championships, and individuals helped Carmel Barracuda swimmers, divers and their families relive one of their best seasons to date. Coach Rich Holine combined the slides taken by John Conklin, Rogue Hattan, David Hardy, Jim Hicks and himself into an outstanding team review. Using a tri-screen and a musical background of such songs as "California Girl", "the Entertainer" and the team's theme, "Smoke on the Water," it made for a very enjoyable evening in the Tulareitos Multipurpose Room.

Preceding the show "Top Fish" awards were presented to:

In charge of potluck refreshments for the evening were team mothers, Mrs. Barbara Allard and Mrs. Lou Langley.

South of the border luncheon

A "South of the Border" luncheon was served on Saturday under the grape arbor at the Carmel Valley Road home of Mrs. William (Virginia) Crawford to members of the Carmel Valley Garden Association and their guests.

Fabulous Mexican food and libations were prepared by excellent cooks from the organization who made up the food committee. The table decor followed the Mexican theme with vivid floral arrangements of zinnias — the Mexican national flower — predominating.

The 35 members in attendance welcomed guests who included: Sara and Fred Slautterback, Betty and Alex Gammir, Martha and Boyd Huff, the Frank Eltons and Mrs. Marshall Campbell.

Partygoers agreed, "a tip of the sombrero" was in order for party givers: Virginia Crawford, Olene Dick, Rosemary Roberts, Mary Jernegan and Ann Melching.

Community Service

"An old oak leaf cluster to the young people from the Buckeye 4-H Club who performed a community service on Sunday by assisting with service at the Carmel Valley Lions Club Pancake Breakfast held at the CV Community Center. According to Kent Swanson, representative for the club; "Marcus Arana was chairman of the workers and assigned shifts to: Adam Brodsley, Louise Boone, Thor Rassmussen, Gretchen Vanderveen, Ashley Swanson, Danny Weiss, Anna Williams, Stephanie Parham, Wes Farr, Kirk Rassmussen, Liz Weiss, Mike Williams, Will Farr, Susan Buckner, Kim Parham, Sandra Pryer and Kent Swanson."

Up With People sells out

Finding 1600 seats filled for the Friday night performance of "Up With People" at Sherwood Hall in Salinas did not surprise in the least the many friends who made the trip over the mountain to applaud one of the members in the cast of 180, Ken Conklin of Carmel Valley. Several rows, in fact, were filled with members of the Carmel Barracudas Swim Team with whom Ken had competed for many years before joining the cast which on Friday featured young people from 49 states and eight foreign countries.

Fifteen instrumentalists accompanied dancing and singing which ranged from their theme "Up, Up With People, they're the best kind of folks we know" to a Ugandan Morning song; and from wild jitterbugging to a Yugoslavian folk dance.

Secondary to the talent was the genuine enthusiasm and spirit of the group which brought the audience to their feet for a standing ovation following their final rendition of "Up With People."

The entire show encouraged a great deal of audience participation including the selection at random of Kirk Gayman from the audience to sing with a cast member (Kirk by coincidence lives across the street from Ken); and a conga line which led a good portion of the adult audience and Carmel Valley young people up on the stage.. and "Hello there, Dr. Jim Hicks!"

Ken, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conklin of Boronda Road was scheduled to appear in Merced next, followed by a number of shows in the San Francisco area.

Salinas Valley families opened their homes to members of the cast brought to the area under the sponsorship of the Salinas Kiwanis Club and the Salinas Californian.

In addition to the show, ticket holders were treated to the unveiling of the handsome engraved plaque by the highly acclaimed Salinas mural artist, John Roby. The four by six foot painting depicting Valley farmworkers was hung in the mezzanine of the beautiful new Salinas Community Center minutes before the doors opened.

The painting called "Strength of Our Valley" was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caswell and presented to the city of Salinas, accepted by Mrs. Helen Kingsley, chairman of the Community Center Arts. Caswell is a former publisher of the Salinas Californian and Roby is a retired staff artist of the paper.

"Highly successful" was the evaluation of Mrs. Thomas McKiernon, chairman of last week's American Red Cross Bloodmobile. Winning streak for girls could mean swim title

By ED NOBLE

The Carmel High girls' swim team is off to a blazing start this season, as they attempt to capture an unprecedented 11th straight MPL swim title.

The Padre girls have won their first four meets of the season. In a recent non-league meet versus Live Oak, which was supposed to be their toughest meet of the season, the Padres responded by breaking 10 school records en route to a 102-68 victory. The win lengthened the Carmel girls' streak to 31 straight wins, and a 56-1 mark covering the past five years.

Talking about the overall outlook of his team, head coach Bob Walthour says, "I felt that this year would be a rebuilding year, and I was a bit worried about graduating 17 seniors last year. But after watching these girls perform, it looks like another undefeated season."

The Padres have only three seniors on the squad this year, Marguerite Meyer, Nancy Pryer and Jenny Walden. The three are team captains.

With only three seniors, most of the outstanding swimmers are either freshman, sophomores or juniors. Coach Walthour feels his best swimmers are sophomore Gail Frost in the individual medley and the butterfly races, freshman Denise LaFontaine in the breaststroke and the fly, and freshman Stacey Hicks in the butterfly and the backstroke.

Other excellent swimmers include junior Lisa Conklin in the breaststroke, freshman Mary McCreery in the freestyle and backstroke, and junior Kim Neil who swims in the longer distance freestyle events.

The Carmel girls' divers will be anchored by juniors Deanna Campbell, Tracy Wegeman and Linda Lewis.

Sandcastle contest set

The 15th Annual Great Sand Castle Contest of Carmel will be held Sunday, Oct. 24. High tide is at 11:02 a.m. and low tide will be at approximately 5:59 p.m. This provides almost six hours of receding tide for sand castle builders.

Judging begins at 2 p.m. Awards will be offered in both the Advanced Sand Box and Novice Sand Pile categories. There will also be a Grand Sand Award. As usual, the Sour Grapes will be awarded to the worst loser.

The theme of this year's contest will be "Sandcastles."

The Great Sand Castle Contest of Carmel is held on the Carmel Beach and is sponsored by the Monterey Bay Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. The information table will be located at the base of 13th Street.

Registration will take place on the site of the particular project. No preregistration or entry fee is required. Also, there are no rules, but there are some requests by organizers of the event:

1. A dog can destroy a sand castle in seconds and therefore dogs are very unpopular at the Sand Castle Contest.

2. Keep the Carmel Beach beautiful by removing all unnatural items when you leave.

3. Sand can cave in and trap someone, so holes in the sand should not be of a depth which might be dangerous.

4. The City of Carmel frowns on the use of mechanical earth moving equipment on the beach.

Barracudas at Gavilan

Led by 10-year-old Bill Woodward, 24 members of the Carmel Barracudas Swim Team competed with representatives of 21 other Pacific Association teams in Morgan Hill Swim Club's AAU "B" Meet at Gavilan College over the weekend.

In the two-day meet, young Bill set a new team record, achieved two "A" Times, finished first in three events and placed in two more. The Barracudas continue to improve their individual times as their season draws to a close. In all, nine Carmel swimmers brought home 23 ribbons. Other first-place finishers were Stacey Hicks, with an A Time and new team record in the 500 Free, and Michael Hardy, with lifetime bests in both the 50 Breast and 50 Free. Second place was captured by Suzy Hermanson in the 200 IM, third places by Tom Zeleny in 50 Breast, Mike Hardy in 200 Free, and Josh Hardy in 25 Free. Pete Woodward set a new team record in the 500 Free.

Padres beat Palma 10-6

By ART BLACK JR.

The Carmel High School varsity football team emerged from its pre-league doldrums last Friday night at Salinas when it defeated the Palma High Chieftans 10-6. This win puts the varsity at an overall mark of 1-3 and a league record of 1-0.

The Padre scoring all came in the second quarter and was initiated by the Padre defense, which continued to look good against the Chieftans. The first score in the game came when Padre Bob Ingram recovered a Palma fumble and quarterback Steve Talley completed a 21-yard pass to JJ Jinishian to give the Padres first and goal to go at the Chieftan seven-yard line. Typically, three offensive plays failed to produce a touchdown (in fact the Padres lost a yard) and Kelly Beckett was called in to kick a 25-yard field goal to put the Padres on the scoreboard.

The final Padre score came moments later as Morgan Ward intercepted a Palma pass and returned it to the Chieftan 20-yard line.

Sources of Energy—No. 7 of a series

There's enough coal to generate electricity in the U.S. for centuries. But it's no simple energy solution here.

First, the good news.

The coal resources of the United States are large enough to satisfy all of the nation's energy needs for 200 years or more. Most of it is in the Western states, and fortunately much of it is low in sulfur content.

PG&E is actively investigating coal as a future fuel for power generation, and we have recently acquired substantial coal reserves in Utah.

Now, the bad news.

Reliance on coal resources for a major part of California's energy supply would create considerable logistical and environmental problems.

Unfortunately, there is no coal in commercial quantity in California, and the closest is almost 1,000 miles away. A 2,000 megawatt power plant would require shipments of 137 rail carloads of coal a day and burning it would produce 900 tons of ash a day—a substantial waste disposal problem.

Even if approval could be obtained from sister Western states to burn coal there and transmit the electricity to California, it would be more costly than locating the plants in California.

However, we shall continue to work on solving the problems and to develop our coal resources. Coal is one of the primary energy sources needed to help meet California's growing energy needs.

Other sources of energy.

There are 5 sources of energy which PG&E now uses for generating electricity.

Northern California has one of the nation's most extensive hydroelectric systems. It produces relatively inexpensive electricity. But nearly all economical and acceptable hydro sites have already been developed.

That's why natural gas and oil have become more prominent in our energy mix. Unfortunately, the costs of these fossil fuels have been skyrocketing. In just 5 years, the price of fuel oil has increased sixfold and the average price for natural gas has tripled, accounting for most of our rate increases.

We have the nation's only geothermal power development, largest in the world, and we are expanding it. However, we estimate it would supply only about 10 percent of our needs by 1985.

These limitations are reasons why our fifth primary source of energy—nuclear—is so important, and why we, like other utility systems here and abroad, have turned to uranium as power plant fuel. When our two nuclear units at Diablo Canyon go into operation, they can produce electricity for about 40 percent less than new oil-fired plants, despite higher initial construction costs.

Wind, solar, garbage, tides, ocean thermal differences, fusion and other developing technologies may someday help us supply your energy. Some may take years to prove out. Others may never become efficient or reliable enough to be competitive. But if and when they are ready, we'll be ready too. In the meantime, we must meet your demands for electricity.

Facing the problem together

The demand for electricity continues to grow, partly because population itself continues to grow. And the problem of meeting this growing demand is critical.

For our part, we will continue our urgent efforts to develop all available sources, to find new ways to use energy more efficiently, and to keep you provided with adequate energy and reliable service at the lowest possible cost. For your part, the effective way to help control the spiraling cost of energy is to use less of it. We encourage you to do so because the energy you use is too precious...and too costly...to waste.

Save energy—
you'll save money, too.

Girls Tennis starts well

By LAURA NOLAN

The Carmel High School Girls' Tennis Team is off to a good start. They have won 4 out of four matches.

The team has defeated Monterey 5-2, Gonzales 7-0, Pacific Grove 6-1, and Seaside 5-2.

There are 17 girls playing on the varsity. The team has three singles players, and seven doubles teams.

The varsity singles players are: Isabel Collas, a senior; Mimi Kroagius, a freshman; and a junior Cheri Threadgill.

The doubles teams are: Gigi Galang-Krisi Luster; Sandy Fulton-Kim Tracy; Andrea Jacobsen-Lori Tunstall; Jan Tallet-Nancy Taylor; Michell Rico-Carolyn Drye; Alison Porter-Elizabeth Vout; and Cathy Carr-Pat Doran.

The three junior varsity players, all freshmen, are Gina Tarantino, Elizabeth Drye, and Laurie McGlochin.

"These girls are coming along so fast," said Coach Bob Walch about the J.V. players, "that they could be playing varsity doubles by the end of the season."

The girls' next match will be against Hollister on Thursday, Oct. 14, at Hollister.

Carmel's toughest match will come on Tuesday, Oct. 19, against Santa Catalina School.

Sanitary Board meeting

The Carmel Sanitary District board of directors agreed a record had been set Tuesday night when they ended their regular monthly meeting at 9 p.m., an hour after it began.

Board chairman Don Kirk cautioned that only a "modern record" had been made, since district meetings haven't always stretched past midnight.

Among the items that came up in the brief meeting was the approval of $25,000 to be spent for a truck with a sewer pipe cleaning machine, and the approval of $3,500 for pilot work on a study for the extension of the plant's present capacity. The study would be "essentially an office report," according to district engineer David Kennedy to generate a possible program of improvement.

The district briefly discussed the possibility of repairing more manholes, but agreed that it should be put off since no money had specifically been budgeted for the project.
